ASIA'S GROOVIEST BEACH COUNTDOWN PARTY SET TO MAKE A BIG SPLASH

- HYDRO PARTYING takes over this New Year's Eve at Sentosa
 - It's wet and wild all over again

13 December 2011, Singapore - Water jets and water spray guns will be making a big splash when the party gets underway on Sentosa's Siloso Beach, come 31 December. This wet and wild countdown party will feature some of the coolest international DJs who will drench you with 12 hours of non-stop music at the largest beach countdown party in Asia!

Two elevated cherry pickers with water jets, that can reach a height of 10 metres, will unleash the water-play onto party-goers at the wet dance zone located in the Main Arena, while foam-fans take to the signature giant foam pool. Soak in the hydro party atmosphere by taking a dip in the dunking machine or splashing water from the water drums.

For the first time, Siloso Beach Party brings together two renowned female DJs, DJ Shy and DJ K-Sly for a special showcase. The female duo will also be spinning with VDJ Funky T, creating a mash-up of the hottest party music videos as we count down to 2012!

The 1.2km sandy dance floor will be filled with sizzling dance moves to make Siloso Beach the grooviest place to be this New Year's Eve. So bring out your sexiest beach wear and get set for some huge HYDRO PARTYING at Sentosa.
