Singapore, 31 August 2013 – Sentosa Golf Club has won top honours for the Best Golf Course in Singapore. Its championship course, The Serapong, was recognised for its “consistency and quality.... from the tee box to green and beyond”. The Serapong is currently home of the HSBC Women’s Champions and has hosted the Singapore Open for eight years.

Golf Digest Singapore’s ranking which started in 2009 involves a panel of independent course raters consisting of experienced golfers and top local amateurs. The awards by one of the region’s top golf publications honour the best in the golfing industry in Asia. The rankings were published in the September issue of Golf Digest Singapore.

The experiences at Sentosa Golf Club extend beyond the championship greens. Sentosa Golf Club also emerged winner for the Best Club House, topping the rankings in F&B and service.

“Sentosa Golf Club is committed to presenting world-class experiences, not only for our Club members, but also the business community. The business of golf holds true for us as we continue to build on an environment where business men and women can network and seal business deals, through a friendly game of golf or through corporate golf events which are regularly organised by prestigious industry partners,” said Low Teo Ping, President, Sentosa Golf Club and Board Member, Sentosa Development Corporation.
